

GTCbio is delighted to present the 3rd Allergy, Asthma, & COPD Conference, to be held on January 25-26, 2016 in San Diego, CA. The conference will bring together industry, academia and government experts in the field of allergy, asthma and COPD.

Experts will facilitate discourse on the challenges and opportunities for therapeutic and drug development for allergic diseases for the current and future generations. Topics will range from basic scientific research to biomarkers and clinical development. Novel immune targets, new therapeutic interventions, genetics, epigenetics and biomarkers in allergic diseases will be presented.

Please join us for presentations on the latest research as well as networking sessions to meet and collaborate with fellow researchers. We hope to see you in San Diego!

Conference Dates: January 25-26, 2016

<https://www.gtcbio.com/conferences/allergy-asthma-copd-overview>