

The Rolera EM-C2 EMCCD microscopy camera aids researchers in applications such as spinning-disc confocal imaging, total internal reflection fluorescence microscopy, ratiometric ion imaging, and fluorescence recovery after photobleaching. The camera is engineered for sensitive performance in low-light imaging applications. Live-cell imaging studies are enabled by the camera